STATEMENT OF PURPOSE

I am a public health social work professor and practitioner whose career objective has focused on the health and well-being of the health and human service workforce in the United States and South Africa. This workforce, composed primarily of women and including large numbers of people of color, is critical to the quality and sustainability of social services. My education and practical training in community organizing, policy, occupational health and safety, and public health facilitates my involvement with interdisciplinary, international and collaborative projects. In the next phase of my career, I seek continued support for my scholarship, research and practice, as I continue to hone my skills in order to provide leadership in social work and the social work contribution to public health.
